

Using the Starter Toolbox

What is in the starter toolbox?

Information and materials that select WIC local agencies have used to:

- Identify local agency priorities for working with physicians and the health care community. This includes assessment tools to identify local needs and resources of physicians, registered dietitians, and WIC participants.
- Select or develop strategies to build partnerships with physicians, Medi-Cal, health plans, Child Health and Disability Prevention (CHDP) Program, medical associations, and other stakeholders to optimize nutrition service delivery to WIC families.

How do I get started?

1. Review contents of the starter toolbox.
2. Prioritize your needs.
3. Identify and select potential health care partners (HCPs).
4. Select tools most appropriate to address partner/WIC needs.
5. Tailor tools, as necessary, for your community
6. Schedule a meeting with potential partners.
